

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

Thank you for writing with your thoughts and concerns. I apologize for the delay in responding, but the volume of mail I've received has been overwhelming.

I am honored by the outpouring of support and interest in my programs and challenged by the many pieces of constructive criticism received. While I haven't been able to respond to every issue raised, your ideas and opinions mean a great deal to me. I welcome the opportunity to hear from you again.
